

HIATUS NEWSLETTER NO. 1

Librarian

Great news - especially for Sue - we have a new librarian. Barbara Yorke-Edwards, who has served as librarian before, has very kindly agreed to take on the role again from this Autumn. Thankyou to Sue for all her hard work and efficiency over the last few years.

On the subject of scores, thankyou to everyone who returned their music to our various depots in Hadleigh and Elmsett, and especially to those of you who made such a good job of rubbing out all the markings (some of which were the previous choir's!). It was very much appreciated.

Summer Concert – 20th June

Whilst we acknowledge that our summer concert is likely to fall by the wayside along with so many other planned events, we haven't given up hope yet.

Chris reckons we could put something together if we had a minimum of 4 rehearsals (and he didn't introduce anything too tricky!).

Sadly St Mary's Church have had to make the decision to cancel the Midsummer Festival of Flowers and Music, and obviously anything we did would be subject to restrictions in force at the time, availability of the church etc. HOWEVER, we will be keeping this under review and will keep you informed.

Autumn Concert – 8th September

Rehearsals for our Autumn concert are scheduled to start on 8th September. We will – hopefully - be singing Dvorak's Requiem. Obviously libraries are closed at the moment, and whilst we can still email them with our order, there will no doubt be a delay as they deal with the backlog. However, Sue, as her last duty as librarian, will be putting in our order asap so hopefully we won't be too far down the list.

AGM – 23rd June

Again, it may not be possible to hold this meeting in the Ansell Centre as planned. However, we are looking at various options, including the possibility of holding a virtual AGM, so watch this space.

That's it for the moment. Hope you're all keeping safe and well. Helen
